Connecting to the Server

By: Mosh Hamedani

New Module

In order to connect your apps to back-end services, you need to import HttpModule and JsonpModule in app.module.ts:

```
import { HttpModule } from '@angular/http';

@NgModule({
    imports: [
        HttpModule,
         JsonpModule
    ]
})
```

Breaking Changes

In Angular Beta, we had to register HTTP providers in our component:

```
@Component({
    …
    providers: [HTTP_PROVIDERS]
})
```

With the new HttpModule, we don't do this anymore. We just import HttpModule into our AppModule and all the internal services will be registered for dependency injection.